Denko Foam Products

Just a quick note to let you know how pleased we are with both your "Drench product" and the "A&B Hi X Foam" that we recently purchased from you. The Drench works perfect in our grass fire trucks and we preload our water cans with it as well for use on small fires. The drench can stretch a 2 ½ gallon water can to what seems like 5 gallons of suppression and makes short work of grass fires when needed.

The A&B Hi X foam is used exclusively in our front line engines foam cell, and I am happy to report no rekindles and half of the man power hours since we started using it for structure fires. We typically run it at about 0.6 % maybe 1.0% on stubborn fires.

I look forward to buying more products from you in the future. I really appreciate the fact I can get all my foam and cleaning products all from one source. This saves me a ton of time. Thanks again for all you do for the firefighting industry.

Respectfully
